My Macs are permanently in dev mode so no hidden folders THFourteen 21 Feb 2017 11:43:04 53,839 posts Seen 3 weeks ago Registered 15 years ago TAJB 21 Feb 2017 12:05:08 1,221 posts Seen 3 years ago Registered 6 years ago Phattso wrote:Try this: 'Go to Finder.

It's rare Maybe three times in six years I've had Steam refuse to start on my Windows machine twice in the last year mind.

Another thing: when you reinstalled did you restart your Mac between uninstalling and reinstalling? I've had issues with some Steam service not getting terminated which causes problems.. 'I did try this but I couldn't find the folder Maybe I'm doing something wrong?' y2rich 21 Feb 2017 14:07:03 3,501 posts Seen 1 week ago Registered 14 years ago Didn't Steam drop support for older versions of the MacOS a while ago? If you're not on the latest that may be the issue TAJB 21 Feb 2017 16:56:07 1,221 posts Seen 3 years ago Registered 6 years ago I'm still on OSX Mavericks I think but can't be certain.. Any ideas? neems 21 Feb 2017 10:53:55 4,868 posts Seen 8 hours ago Registered 12 years ago TAJB 21 Feb 2017 10:59:49 1,221 posts Seen 3 years ago Registered 6 years ago Searched and searched and I can't find a solution.. All I know is that they want me to install the latest update and make all of my current apps incompatible with the new OSClick on the Apple icon (top menu) > 'About This Mac' and it'll tell you your OS version.. It forces it to rebuild them which then often cures the issue The Mac client is a shonky abomination sadly.. 9 5 It doesn't seem too old Should I update? Would this be causing the issue?
